

DermaFloat® LAL Therapeutic Surface

Technology that will revolutionize your wound prevention and intervention

- True low air loss wicks away moisture to prevent skin maceration
- Twenty individual cells help to evenly distribute resident's weight and maximize pressure redistribution
- Low shear and low friction therapy pad is treated with an antibacterial and antifungal agent and is fluid proof and moisture vapor permeable
- Two-inch lower safety mattress for resident transport and power failure; stays inflated for up to 12 hours to prevent bottoming out
- CairRails risk management side air bolsters

The DermaFloat® LAL, provided by Joerns Healthcare is a unique therapy system that provides pressure redistribution by combining low air loss with pulsation.

Low air loss therapy has been demonstrated to reduce the risk of pressure ulcers as well as being a valuable aid in the treatment of pressure ulcers. The pulsation feature may provide additional resident comfort and enhance the lymphatic system. The DermaFloat LAL is designed as a mattress replacement system for residents weighing up to 500 lbs.

Eight comfort control settings to maximize resident compliance and promote healing
