Air Massage with Heating Option

The massage airbags consist of four independently controllable airbags that are installed inside the mattress for use. Three massage modes can be achieved by inflating and deflating the airbags. The waist airbags can also function as lumbar support. If there is no operation, the airbags will automatically stop running after 45 minutes.

The heating function is provided by a 29V heating pad. If left unattended, the heating pad will automatically stop after running continuously for 60 minutes.

Our Factory

Starsleep's products are produced leveraging Charme's global supply chain system, incorporating Italian design, German technology, Swiss innovation, and North American quality control standards. By combining materials and production cost advantages from various regions in Asia, we optimize the manufacturing process. We have always advocated the concept of a high-quality lifestyle, embracing a life philosophy of 'Freedom, Balance, Wisdom and Taste,' and embodying the brand principles of 'respect, integration, innovation, and gratitude.' Starsleep not only focuses on high-quality materials, practical products, and reasonable pricing but also strives to provide users with a more practical, innovative, and comfortable home experience, making the wisdom and enjoyment of life within easy reach.
